

COVID-19 Frequently Asked Questions for Groups

What changes has Shaker Village made under CDC regulations?

Shaker Village will be operating under state and local guidelines for crowd capacity limits. The Village has established attendance caps for each area of the site that will be below the Village's theoretical capacity in order to allow for proper social distancing. Upon entry into Shaker Village you will now check in with a staff member at the front entrance. The staff attendant will track which area of the Village you are planning to visit. Guests visiting Shaker Village can expect to see enhanced safety protocols upon entering the site:

- Signage and floor markers will be located throughout the property both indoors and outdoors.
- Dining areas will be adjusted to allow ample space between seated parties both indoors and outdoors.
- Six-foot markers will be located inside buildings to allow guests to observe exhibits and browse the shops while maintaining a safe distance.
- Capacity at indoor venues will be reduced to meet social distancing requirements and will be posted on outside doors. Staff will be stationed throughout the historic Village to observe capacity and to answer questions.
- Guests viewing outdoor entertainment or visiting farm animals will be separated by at least six feet.

A comprehensive list of all safety protocols can be found online at shakervillageky.org. These significant new changes are designed to improve the overall experience while keeping guests and employees safe.

We highly encourage you to wear a mask that covers your nose and mouth, especially when indoors or when unable to maintain six feet of safe distance.

Am I allowed to go into Shaker buildings?

Some of our buildings are for overnight guests only, but a few are open to the public for touring. To enter our historic buildings, you must pay an admission fee which can be
